LEG AMPUTATED

TURNED OUT GAS

Method Employed by Firemen When Called to Prospect Street House.

A burning piece of pork in a kettle on a stove was the cause of a bell alarm rung in at box 27, on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The "fire" occurred in the home of Mrs. Jane Redman on the corner of Prospect and Chestnut streets. Mrs. Redman works in the mill and when she left at noon, thought she turned the gas off under the kettle, but evidently did not, for the water boiled out in the kettle, and then the meat began to burn. The house was filled with smoke and it poured out of one of the windows. An alarm was rung in, but all the firemen had to do was to turn out the gas, throw the kettle out and open several windows.

BABY WEIGHING.

House to House Canvass Being Made by Trained Nurses in This City.

Several trained nurses are making a house to house canvass in this city to encourage the entering of babies in the clinic and baby contest.

The United States government is making this baby survey and it is the aim to weigh all babies in the country under 6 years of age. To do this, nurses are canvassing the homes, and it has been arranged to weigh the babies in stores in the different districts in the city. All that is required is that the baby be weighed and a card filled out which states the date of birth of the child, its parents' names and nationalities. The baby which comes nearest to the standard in weight will be awarded a prize.

Last Tuesday about 60 babies were weighed at Bretschneider's store on Chapman street and Mel's store on upper Main street. Thursday the regular baby clinic was held at the Natchaug school, and 35 babies were weighed. Friday afternoon from 3 to 5 babies will be weighed at Racicot's store on South Park street, and Monday they will be weighed at Dion's store on Ash street.

The Liberty cottage has been opened a week for this purpose and there is always one of the members of the child welfare committee at the cottage to distribute the literature about the entering of babies and give advice.

Saturday afternoon babies on the Hill will be weighed at Mrs. Otto B. Robinson's home on Lewiston avenue.
